#InThisTogether2025 Campaign Launch

#InThisTogether2025 is a bold new campaign that was launched across Nottinghamshire with one clear mission: to turn everyday residents into lifesavers.

This campaign is spearheaded by ATTFE College in partnership with Derbyshire's CPTED-UK Ltd and CitizenAID. The initiative brings free, hands-on emergency training to communities across the county.

From stopping severe bleeding to responding in crisis situations, the campaign is equipping people of all ages with the confidence and skills to act when it matters most.

The campaign was officially launched on Thursday 25th September 2025 at the newly opened Cornerstone Theatre in Sutton-in-Ashfield, drawing a distinguished audience of over 200 attendees. The event was opened by Major General Tim Hodgetts CB, CBE, KHS, DL, Trustee and Co-Founder of CitizenAID, whose presence underscored the national importance of the initiative.

The initiative directly supports the UK's 2025 National Security Strategy, which champions a "whole-of-society" approach to tackling both traditional terrorism and emerging hybrid threats. These threats increasingly blur the lines between military and civilian targets, demanding a united response. This new vision calls for breaking down the barriers between public services, the military, the private sector, and wider society — fostering collaboration at every level to ensure the nation is prepared, protected, and empowered.

The campaign's goal is to upskill 2,025 people across Nottinghamshire by the end of 2025. Those aged 16 and over will have the opportunity to gain a nationally recognised Level 2 qualification in CitizenAID, while under-16s will take part in tailored awareness sessions to build their confidence and understanding of emergency response.

ATTFE College Catering Learners at a Clinical Research Facility Launch Event

ATTFE College was proud to sponsor the buffet at the grand opening of Sherwood Forest Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust's new Clinical Research Facility!

Our fabulous catering learners, volunteers, and staff served up a delicious spread that everyone enjoyed. It was amazing to see our learners shine outside of college, gaining hands-on hospitality experience, and even more heartwarming to see them celebrated with certificates and flowers.

A huge thank you to the SFHFT team for this wonderful partnership and for making our learners feel so valued. Community collaboration at its very best!

Remembrance Preparations with Nottinghamshire Fire & Rescue Service

Our construction learners, volunteers, and staff are busy bringing this year's Tommy figures to life for Remembrance Day!

A huge thank you to our amazing supporters from Nottinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service, Carl and Karl, for their continued dedication year after year. Your support makes this community initiative possible!

We are truly #InThisTogether
